DEATH WISH

STARRING CHARLES BRONSON, ARCHITECT

Rob Kovitz

We're sitting in a forty-story building that has an exterior of lightweight embossed aluminum. So what? Well, these dullish facts can mean a lot to certain individuals at certain times.

BRONSON: “I’m only the architect.”

What you're seeing is what you, figuratively, asked for. You paid your money, here it is.

The New Republic

CLIENT: “What’s it gonna cost me?”

BRONSON: “Well, if you get it in the steel frame with reflective glass, it’ll cost you two hundred and fifty dollars a square foot. Wooden frame is a hundred dollars a square foot. Concrete is a hundred and fifty dollars a square foot. All the figures are right here.”

CLIENT: “I can’t believe these prices!”

MAN WOUNDS 2, KILLS SELF OVER RENOVATIONS

Melbourne Beach, Fla. (AP)—A heavily armed man who was upset at renovations to a church wounded two people and barricaded himself inside the church with a hostage for seven hours yesterday before killing himself. Officers fired tear gas and stormed St. Sebastian-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church and found the body of a man, identified by police as Douglas Pearson, 47. Ted Ferris, a member of the church building committee, said Mr. Pearson moved to Florida from Toronto three years ago. Mr. Pearson had worked in construction and design, Mr. Ferris said. Mr. Pearson was also a member of the church building committee, and church members said he had been upset about renovations at the church, including a plan to add trim to the church's new copper steeple.
